Lafayette Robbery Pair Nabbed by Oakland Police

An act of heroism on the part of a young Oakland patrol officer early yesterday resulted in the arrest of a man and woman believed to be responsible for at least nine armed robberies in California, including one at a Lafayette tavern Monday night.

A third person involved in the robbery and pistol-whipping in Lafayette and a similar episode in Richmond a short time later is still at large, Oakland police reported.

IN CUSTODY at the Oakland City Jail are Larkin Murrell, 31, of Sacramento, who has served three prior terms in San Quentin, and Corine Wieland, 23, of Washington State.

Oakland police inspectors said Murrell is being held by their department on charges of being an ex-felon in possession of a firearm and assault with a deadly weapon.

Miss Wieland, meanwhile, has confessed her part in the robbery and the other man, according to police, No formal charges had been lodged against her by press time last night.

Inspectors in the Oakland Police Department reported that Murrell has remained completely silent about his activities, but Miss Wieland broke down under questioning early yesterday morning and has provided officers with a great deal of information.

THE HERO of the early morning Hollywood-type capture was Patrolman S. Vares, who was in the process of writing a citation at the intersection of 10th and Broadway in Oakland when things began to happen.

According to the police report, Vares and his partner, Patrolman Ed Williams, were completing the citation when Richard Misamore, manager of the Fun Center, 1012 Broadway, ran out onto the street and told them there was a fight under way in his establishment.

Vares went into the amusement center first, saw the fight in progress and while he was in the process of trying to break it up, Murrell drew a 22-calibre Italian-made automatic pistol and raised it to the officer's forehead.

John VonMeir, 35 College Way, Pleasant Hill, was pistol-whipped by one of the toughs and George Slocumb, 56, 909 Hough Street was taken to county hospital after he was slugged.

VON MEIR TOLD Detective Earl Faulkenstrom and Sheriff's Sergeant James Stender that the two men and the woman entered the tavern at 10:25 p.m. and ordered a round of drinks.

VonMeir commented to sheriff's officers that they offered to buy him a drink and when he refused he was slugged across the face with a luger type pistol.

The woman left the tavern, he reported, and the two men began a search and seizure of the bartenders' and patrons' belongings.

After leaving the Lafayette cafe, the bandits struck at a Richmond tavern where 10 persons were pistol-whipped and robbed. One woman was in serious condition at Brookside Hospital yesterday suffering from a fractured skull.

OTHER ACTION during the weekend saw firemen cleaning up a flood at the home of the E. J. Hindes, 90 Loma Vista Drive.

Wyatt said the Hindes returned home Saturday evening to find both stories of their home completely under water.

The flood apparently was caused by a washing machine connection which broke loose while the appliance was running, according to the fire chief. Wyatt added that the washing machine probably was operating all day Saturday.

Firemen Assist Stricken Visitor

Orinda firemen provided first aid Sunday night for a middle-aged Sacramento man who suffered a heart attack while visiting at the home of a lifelong friend, Paul C. Moore, 201 Moraga Highway.

Fire Chief Everett Wyatt reported that Malcolm Galbraith, the victim, was returned to his home after hasty efforts by the local firemen and service truck revived him. The emergency crew administered oxygen to revive the stricken man.

Caucuses to Ready School Boards for Unification Vote

School boards within the boundaries of the Acalanes High School District, including the high school board, will hold separate "caucuses" early next month, so each board will be able to vote as a unit on "reorganization," January 20.

An "augmented" committee decision, favoring any of the five alternatives other than "status quo" will have far reaching and profound effects on each and every pupil, teacher and administrator in Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon.

The Acalanes board will meet January 4 to consider its position. Informal reports say member's favor unification of all districts within the boundaries or else status quo.

THE LAFAYETTE ELEMENTARY District trustees have already made up their minds. They recently voted, 4-1, in favor of a "vertical" unification, which would unite each elementary school district with the high school in its area, creating several "unified" districts.

The Lafayette trustees are known to be proud of their educational system, and anxious to see that "articulation" or the smooth transition to the higher grades and into high school, is properly achieved. Trustees will meet again January 11, before the "augmented" meeting.

Walnut Creek District trustees, whose request initiated the study by the County School District Organization Committee, will hold a study session early in January. A regular meeting also is scheduled for January 4.

The Orinda School District trustees will meet January 11 instead of January 4, and it is not decided whether the question will be taken up then, or at a special meeting, according to Superintendent Joe Sheaff.

THE MORAGA DISTRICT trustees discussed the matter Monday without adopting a formal stand, and they will meet again, January 18, two days before the "augmented" meeting.

The Canyon board members may discuss it at their regular January 13 meeting, or may hold a special meeting. Mrs. Philomena Drake, board secretary, said that due to illnesses, the board has not been able to follow recent developments as closely as desired.

William B. Freeman, an Acalanes board trustee, said he believes that a "status quo" decision may be considered one of the alternatives before the augmented committee, although he did not indicate the favored status quo.

At the December 9 augmented committee meeting, Freeman was asked to present his views on articulation in a letter, and the letter, placing an overall unified district in a favorable light from that standpoint, has been submitted.

LAFAYETTE BOARD MEMBER Bert Scarborough made the motion which brought the motion which set the January 20 meeting for a decision-making vote.

Alternatives other than "status quo" include one overall district, combining all high schools and all elementary schools under one board, two plans for three unified districts, under a "vertical" arrangement, and two plans for two unified districts, vertically organized, with some "horizontal" aspects.

There is no out-and-out "horizontal" alternative, that is, a joining of elementary districts, leaving out the high school district.

Most arguments center on the advantage of "vertical" versus "overall" unification.

"VERTICAL" PROPONENTS point to the boards ability to be intimately acquainted with the local problems, and coordinate the courses on the elementary and high school level.

"Overall" proponents point to the value of having a much larger tax base to finance construction of new schools, especially the expensive high schools, the ability to "balance" situations where there is a population spurt in any area by shifting attendance boundaries, the control over "articulation" or orderly transition to high school level courses, and economics possible through the speculation of a large district.

The Walnut Creek board, which proposed the study, has not taken any strong stand favoring any form of unification yet, while Scarborough has accused the Acalanes board of "dragging its feet" in the push towards a conclusion. Scarborough was chairman of the Assessed Valuation Study Committee, which submitted its final report recently, along with the other four committees.

A question has been raised whether school district trustees would "vote themselves out of existence" by favoring an overall district, but the reply has been that the only objective should be the "best education for the child."

EVEN IF THE AUGMENTED committee reaches a decision other than "status quo," it will be a long time before the matter is submitted to the voters.

There would be a review by the County Superintendent of Schools, public hearings, and also a review by the State Department of Education.

The Sun will present a series of articles, beginning next week, on the reports developed by the five committees on assessed valuation (Scarborough, chairman); articulation (Helen Brattain); special services (William Lee); staffing patterns (Gordon Ainsworth) and salary schedule (Don Falconer).

The material in these will be boiled down to the outstanding facts and considerations, which will be studied by every school board next month.

DA Office Revamping Possible

County Counsel System May Be Innovated

By POLITICUS

Contra Costa County may start out the new year with a major revamping of the district attorney's office.

Reports indicate that the bulk of the county's supervisors are seriously considering the creation of the office of County Counsel.

Contra Costa is one of the only major counties in the state not to have a county counsel. At present, both criminal and civil matters are under the jurisdiction of the district attorney.

UNDER THE COUNTY counsel setup, the district attorney would be in charge of criminal matters, while the counsel's office would perform service on all the county's civil business.

According to reports circulating in the county seat, the county counsel's office would also administer all the legal functions of the county's many special districts thus eliminating, in time, the need for private counsel in the political subdivisions.

Persistent rumors concerning the county counsel's proposal had been denied, but Thomas J. Coll, third district supervisor, Concord, informed The Sun that such a proposal had been brought to the attention of the supervisors.

"WE HAVEN'T had anything really official on the subject yet, but I feel we are very interested in looking into the matter," Coll commented.

"Personally, Col continued, "I am always looking for ways in which we may better serve the taxpayer and effect savings in county government."

"We are in the process of taking a close look at the county's judicial and municipal court districts and we will also take a look at the cost of the county's legal representation," he added.

The county counsel system works on the basis that every civil matter of all governmental subdivisions in the county is processed through one office. That office has its chief who is on an administrative level with the district attorney.

Historically, the county counsel is an appointive position whereas, the district attorney, by tradition, is elected.

THE CONTRA COSTA District Attorney's Office is currently divided into two divisions, a criminal and a civil. The district attorney also maintains an area representative in the county office building in Richmond.

ON ADVICE FROM District Attorney John Nejedly, the commissioners also voted to recognize the Orinda Firemen's Association as the official representative body of the district's employees.

The firemen and their association were also represented by the Contra Costa County Employees' Association, and commissioners had asked Nejedly for an opinion on which of the two organizations should be the official body.

When the subject of county counsel will be aired in public by the board of supervisors has not been disclosed, but all indications seem to point that it will become a matter of public record shortly after the first of the year.

Fire Chief Will Retire March 1; Winsor Is Named

Fire Chief Everett Wyatt has notified the board of commissioners of the Orinda Fire Protection District that he plans to retire from his post on or about March 1.

Wyatt's intentions were contained in an unexpected letter which was received at last week's meeting of the fire commission.

THE PRESENT CHIEF, who is 53 years old, is nearing the mandatory retiring age of 60 and his action at this time was interpreted as an attempt to ease the transition period while personnel is shifted.

Commissioners promptly named Allen Winsor, 41, who has been assistant chief under Wyatt for the last 10 years, to become the new chief when Wyatt's retirement is effective.

WYATT, A MEMBER of the fire department for 16 years, has served as chief for 15 of them. He explained that he has no plans for after his retirement.

Commissioners accepted Wyatt's letter "with much regret" and called him a "wonderful chief, a wonderful man and one of the main cogs in the successful operation of the fire district."

Winsor joined the local fire forces 15 years ago after service with the U.S. Marine Corps. Five years later he was appointed to his present post.

HE IS A NATIVE of San Jose, and is married and has two children, a boy and a girl. The Winsors live at 172 Ivy Drive.

The fire district began operation with one truck in the old station adjoining the Harbort real estate office, and now has three modern stations, eight trucks and three administrative cars.

Under Wyatt's leadership the department expanded from a small handful of volunteers to its present force of 28 full time employees.

ON ADVICE FROM District Attorney John Nejedly, the commissioners also voted to recognize the Orinda Firemen's Association as the official representative body of the district's employees.

The firemen and their association were also represented by the Contra Costa County Employees' Association, and commissioners had asked Nejedly for an opinion on which of the two organizations should be the official body.

Next Week Will Tell Who Is Man of Year Choice

Who will be the 1959 Sun Man of the Year? That is a difficult question, still being debated by a committee of hardworking public spirited residents.

This group has been burning the midnight oil, sifting the qualifications of the many outstanding men and women who have given of their time and talents for the benefit of the community during the past year.

It is not an easy task, and the committee appreciates the nominations it has received through the mail and over the phone. It has helped to lighten the task.

In the meantime, the period left for making a final choice is becoming practically non-existent.

The choice of the committee, which will be final, will be announced in next week's Sun, so keep your eyes open and be prepared to congratulate one of your friends or neighbors.

DON'T LET THIS SCENE happen in your home over the holidays. Officer William Holmes of the California Highway Patrol has been called on to deliver a death message to a young wife and her children. Only the family, however, who has been delivered one of these messages can really know what this scene depicts. Drive carefully during the holidays—Your life depends on it.

"A real nice, respected girl had a drunken brawl with her house. It started with seven or eight nice kids. Kids from all over Pittsburg and Pleasant Hill came and pretty soon there was a load of kids who were drunk. It was not her fault, nor her parents. I felt sorry for them. The cops were finally called—that was a little while after I left. There definitely is a problem."

THIS STATEMENT was one of many frank expressions of opinion, offered by Pleasant Hill High School students and students from the other three high schools in the Mt. Diablo Unified School District.

They spoke earnestly, even fervently, for three hours at the first of a series of meetings on youth, its needs and activities. Sponsor is the Community Welfare Council of Contra Costa County. Place: Williams School.

A similar discussion meeting, like those being held throughout the United States and aimed at the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth, will be held in Walnut Creek in February. And a similar meeting will be held in the Lafayette area, later.

LOCAL CONCLUSIONS will be assembled and compiled in Sacramento and will then go to Washington, D. C.

The student's comment came during a discussion on teen-age dances, the need for more recreational facilities, and the problems of party-crashing.

Paul Raymer, California Youth Authority representative, had sounded the keynote by saying the students should discuss "the things which exist in our community to point up some of the obstacles that we have to growing up properly."

Raymer's comments among the 25 students at the first meeting: "ABOUT THE PARTIES, one night our girl friends decided to have a get together—about eight kids. A few boys came around and wanted to crash the party. Party crashing is the biggest problem."

"They have nothing else to do. If they had a place to go, they would be out of the way, and would not have to crash parties."

"I disagree—lots of boys do it just for kicks—even if they had someplace else to go they would still crash parties."

"The parties are not usually quite as bad as you are thinking. Rumors build up."

"One person has a glass of champagne and pretty soon rumors has it that the whole party was drunk."

THE DANCE HALL in the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center is so small, so many kids come that all they do is stand around; no way to dance, so they don't want to stay there. It's not really much fun."

Since the participants included Mt. Diablo High students, the discussion turned to the youth center that had been planned for Willow Pass Road, but which met parental opposition, and finally succumbed when financing problems developed.

(Concerning curfew) "I believe in curfew, but the police (Concord) are strict enough right now."

"There is always certain places they go. Anything that is done, the police go bang on the same doors. A certain branch of society always gets by—never gets accused of anything."

"I KNOW SOME of them, and they are not little angels, but they always get away with it. The police always pick on the 'hards.' (Are dances a help?)"

"I am a firm believer in giving something half a chance. Going two minutes is not giving it a chance. It is true that the high society do go there, but nobody says that it is exclusive for the high society."

"When you can go, if you go and your friends go and their friends, too, you are going to have fun. Give it half a chance."

THE ONLY PEOPLE who go to bowling alleys are the 'hards.' They should be more closely supervised."

"I disagree about the bowling alley. I know a lot of kids who do go to the bowling alleys to bowl."

"Bowling alleys are connected with bars and sometimes pool halls."

"If there were any danger, they would not let us in there."

WHEN I GO bowling the bar is there, but I don't pay any attention. When I go bowling, I go bowling to go bowling, and bars don't bother me."

"What we need is a bowling alley just for teenagers."

(Concerning drag strips) "I have had an urge since I got my car to test it out; my sister thinks her car is better and I think mine is. Would girls be allowed on the dragging strip too?"

"You should have a set of rules made out and anyone who violates any rule is completely out. Kids need responsibility."

"I DON'T THINK it would work. Let a little guy tell a big guy, 'You are supposed to drag over there,' and he'll say, 'I'll drag where I please.'"

"I don't think the students could keep control."

(Regarding student government in schools) How do you get "toughs" to cooperate?

"They are not as bad as all that. It's just a front. They are just like any other teenager. If you don't go along with the crowd, you are chicken."

THERE ARE certain kids that are determined not to go the way other kids do. Most of them will go along with you, though. It's just that they have a chip on their shoulder. Sometimes it's the fault of the parents."

(Effect of divorces, separation, strained family relations) "This is very bad for the children. Once in a while mine have spats; it gets my nerves on edge. As far as being helped, if they don't have enough guts to sit down and talk things over, no one can help them."

It's a question of maturity, really. They should sit down and hear both sides of the question and think it out. It would help. Our family has a family conference after dinner and problems are discussed; anything that comes up is discussed openly."

THEY WANT their parents to work together on their problem, and if parents don't work together it pulls their (the children's) insides apart."

"My family spats and quarrels because the parents get so frustrated and depressed."

"I don't know why your parents fight, but probably for the same reason mine do—bills. Children should not be brought in because they do not know which side to choose."

MY MOTHER HAS been divorced, and I have a stepfather now. I was very fortunate in acquiring such a god father and he has been wonderful. Other kids are not so lucky."

The discussion, guided by adult committee members headed by Chairman Don Thompson, touched on the factors which best help the youth to develop and mature, and the availability of proper and interesting activities to that end.

Present at the meeting were Tony Cannata, co-chairman, Raymer, Don Morrison, county probation officer, Ray Enjaian, juvenile hall counselor, Lt. Robert Bahl, Concord police department, Milan Wight and Jim Moniz, both of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District office, and others.

Raymer offered a history of youth conferences in the United States.

HE SAID CHILD labor laws were developed out of the 1919 conference, new attitudes towards handicapped children in the 1930 conference, a "Children in Democracy" theme from 1940.

The 1960 White House Conference will concern itself with "Lasting Values in a Changing World."

Raymer said this is concerned with, "The only thing which is constant—change itself."

Christmas Is A Family Affair, and Contra Costans Celebrate Together

The joys of Christmas are many and varied, but to most people the greatest joy of the holiday season comes from family reunions and the warmth of shared at-home holiday fun with close friends.

Be it mansion or cottage, homes throughout the area are glowing with yule decor and that special hospitality of the Christmas season.

It will be down the hill and over the freeway for the Woodrow Timmers of Arbutus Drive, Walnut Creek, when they journey to grandmother's house in Oakland Christmas eve.

Grandmother is Mrs. Joseph Smejkal and she will be hostess to a family reunion of 38. Kitty, Terry, Chris, Joseph and Helde, the Timmer children will be among the guests at the buffet supper, carol singing and exchange of gifts.

The Michael Jansons of Poplar Drive, Walnut Creek, will entertain aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Mathab, of Alameda on Christmas eve. The guests will spend the night and be on hand for the "Tree" Christmas morning, when the Jason sons, Peter, Frank, Bill and Don will soon be lost in a whirl of gift wrappings.

The Dan Condits, Springhill Road, Lafayette, are among the college parents rejoicing in the holiday return of their students. Phil Condit is home from the University of California at Riverside where he is a physics major.

On Christmas day the Condits will be joined by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kemp, her brother Charles Robert Kemp of Los Angeles and close family friends, the H. H. Bryants and daughter Madeline of Sun Valley.

Mrs. M. A. Nelson of Andrea Drive, Walnut Creek, will entertain at a buffet supper Christmas eve for her children, grandchildren and relatives. Attending the song fest and gift exchange will be Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey and daughter Candace, Mr. and Mrs. William Herlihy and their children, Nelson, Alison and Stephanie, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess with daughter Jane.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Runnels of Camino Pablo, Orinda, will journey to Fresno to spend Christmas with her mother and then to Bakersfield to visit their daughter and grandchildren.

A pre-holiday dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Foreman of Park Avenue, Walnut Creek for their close friends and James E. Cadles. The group dined on pheasant, exchanged gifts and reveled in the holiday excitement of the Foreman's son Clay who is Godson to James Cadle. The Cadles were

San Diego bound for Christmas.

The Stanley Kwiatkows of Danville are planning a quiet family Christmas for their two small sons, Nino and Lalo. However they will entertain at their home on January 2 for relatives near and far.

Tree decoration on Christmas eve will hold special meaning for Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wascoe and their children Frank, Nancy and Chris. It will be the Wascoe's first Christmas in their new home at 141 Arlene Lane in the new Arlene Village Homes area.

The Wascoes will move to their new home on December 23. Christmas day the family will spend in Redwood City with Mrs. Wascoe's mother, Mrs. Olive Marlowe.

Don and Peggy Smith of Janet Lane, Lafayette, are looking forward to a reunion tomorrow with their daughter Pat, up from Los Angeles for the holidays, and their son Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hodges (Carol Hodges) will journey from Lafayette to Walnut Creek to spend tomorrow morning with her sister, Mrs. Ray Cassani and her family. There will be morning eggnog and festive package opening. Jack and Millie Canham of Orinda will also be Christmas morning guests of the Cassanis.

Mr. and Mrs. James McClintock of Orinda Drive are another family who will enjoy their first Christmas in a new home. The McClintocks who moved early in the fall will attend a buffet supper in Berkeley Christmas eve, and be at home Christmas day with their sons, Bill, John and Tim.

Shelley Pond Bows At Traditional Yule Tea

The Christmas tea given by Mrs. Chauncey Pond for her daughter Shelley, on Saturday afternoon in Happy Valley combined a deb party with a tradition the family started seven years ago.

The party was scheduled from 2 to 6 p.m. in order to accommodate the nearly 500 friends of the deb and her mother. The Christmas tea has been an annual event for the family, including mothers and daughters and frequently grandmothers, too.

Decorations for the annual event have been gathered by the Ponds during the course of their 25-year marriage, and are both unusual and lovely. New pieces added this year were white flocked boughs, twinkling with tiny lights and decorated in gold.

Shelley and her mother received in the living room where other new decorations were two gold angels and a gold panel on one wall with a painting of a blue angel.

The deb wore a gown of cyclamen pink and silver brocade and carried a spray of pink cyclamen and white orchids. Mrs. Pond was in silver blue taffeta with a white orchid corsage.

Blue and white silver crystal snowflake trees were used in the dining room, on the buffet and table, while the garden room and conservatory were done in traditional red and green.

Assisting at the tea were Mesdames Carl Dailey, Shirley Baker, Albert Steltzer, M. M. Garrett, Dudley Bell, William Hauser, Raymond Tolles, Robert Bridges, Cameron Wolfe, Loring Winsor, Harry John Dutton, George Mainwaring, Herbert M. Stoll Jr., Frank Harry Smith, Eugene Scofield, Thomas McGuire, George Hauvorkin, Ridgway Woodburn, Leland Polard, Frank Dunn, Donald Perry, Parker Holt, William Ede, Robert McBride and Richard Week.

Deb set members assisting were Pat Jordan, Fredericka Lamb, Linda Zinn, Ann Lamb, Cecilia and Mary Ann McGuire, Mrs. Douglas Bourne (Brenda Plant), Allison Plant, Katrine Brown, Marilyn Brown, Toby Hager, Sally Stoll, Dana Tolles, Linda Bridges, Terry Henshaw, Carol Shaw and Shelley's cousins, Mrs. Hugh Knight (Pat Dailey) and Peggy Dailey.

Women in The Sun

Thursday, December 24, 1959

MARRIED RECENTLY, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis R. Busby smile happily after their wedding in St. Perpetua Catholic Church. A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Maas of Lafayette.

Lafayette Suburbans Have Christmas Potluck Event

A Christmas potluck supper was enjoyed by members of the Lafayette Suburban Women's Club at their December meeting held at the Lafayette School Auditorium.

Besides the wonderful array of holiday foods, each member brought an article to be sold that evening, with the proceeds going to Juvenile Hall for Christmas. Canned goods were also donated for a basket to be given to a needy family through the Christmas Bureau.

Mrs. Stuart Smith, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Vi Martinson. Mrs. Martinson displayed many clever Christmas decorations that could be made from items most everyone has in the home.

Proceeds from "The Holly Hop," a benefit dance held earlier in the month, will go to the club philanthropic fund.

Mrs. Marcel Lescurie was chairman of this affair and was assisted by Mrs. George M. Burt, Mrs. W. E. O'Donnell Jr., Mrs. Carl B. Larson, Mrs. R. Don Young, Mrs. LeRoy Perdue, and Mrs. Herbert L. Christman.

The membership has voted to support the following philanthropic projects for the coming year: Juvenile Hall, Lafayette Community Center, Las Trampas School for Retarded Children, Senior Citizens and Cystic Fibrosis. Mrs. George Zurigen is the group's philanthropic chairman.

As one of the sponsors of Lafayette's '59, the club has already turned over $376 to the Lafayette Community Center. Members have also been collecting used articles for Juvenile Hall and the Senior Citizens Eager Beaver Shop.

Traditional Yule Party Fetes Foreign Exchange Students

Foreign exchange students gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bertagnolli Tuesday evening to participate in a traditional American Christmas "Open House."

Julie Bertagnolli, president of the A.F.S. club at Las Lomas High School, was hostess for the group which included students from Finland, Greece, Italy, Spain, Iran, Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia.

A German-born American classmate of Julie's, Jesine Wilkens, assisted Julie with hostess duties and decorations. The Bertagnolli home was decked with bows of holly and greens.

Two Christmas trees, a Nativity scene on the piano, mistletoe and candles contributed to the happy feeling of an old-fashioned American Christmas. The tables were gay with yule decor and a Wassail Bowl filled with hot spiced cider added a festive air.

Christmas songs, popping corn in an open fire and refreshments that included American fruit cake and yule cookies as well as a Greek cake, made the evening a memorable one for those experiencing an American Christmas for the first time.

Among the adult guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foster and their son Dick who is a Professor of Languages at San Francisco City College and conducted a foreign tour for students last summer.

Other adults were Mr. and Mrs. R. Lommell, who have worked with the A.F.S.; Mr. and Mrs. Al Sanches of San Leandro who speak Spanish fluently; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hill, chairmen of the local A.F.S. committee and their daughter Sally; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Page and daughter Harriet who spent last summer in Turkey.

The foreign students were accompanied by their "big brother or sister" assigned to them at their school and were joined in the party fun by American students who have studied abroad.

Bobolinks Join In Holiday Spirit

The Bobolinks, a junior unit of the Mount Diablo Therapy Center, planned several events for the Christmas holidays at their recent meeting at Diana Hotchkiss' on 14 Linda Vista.

The girls wrapped packages of food for needy families on December 15 at the Walnut Creek Volunteer Christmas Bureau.

The Bobolinks went Christmas caroling for patients at the county hospital in Martinez and also around the houses in the Orinda area Monday.

After caroling, the "Bobbies" relaxed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gillespie on 1 Crane Court to have refreshments and listen to records.

The girls' biggest fund-raiser of the year, their all-unit dance at Diablo Valley College on February 22, will be discussed at the meeting Monday.

Decorations corresponding with the theme, "Misty," will be planned and carried out by the Bobolinks. The other junior units participating in the dance will be responsible for refreshments, bids and music.

Brief Retirement Heralds Start of New Career

By JEAN JERNIGAN

Retirement as known by Mrs. George Planz, 3479 Springhill Road, Lafayette, would send most able bodied men or women scurrying to the nearest rest home!

A professional social worker, Donna Planz retired in June from her position as executive director of the Volunteer Bureau, but her retirement will be one of the briefest in history, as she embarks on a new career in September.

Realizing a lifetime dream, she will return to the University of California to earn her doctorate in social welfare medical research. She hopes eventually to teach at the graduate school level in a school of social welfare.

This Oakland born lady of fragile appearance but with the heart of a lion is spending her brief retirement enjoying her family and catching up on gardening and home decoration. When asked about her gardening she said, "My main chore is taking care of the hillside behind our home. Last summer I planted 450 shrubs on the slope, and keeping them going, watered and weeded, takes up much of my gardening time."

Should this seem like a stupendous task, add the fact that once when her husband was ill she personally pruned 150 trees over their six acres! A recent addition to their home has necessitated considerable additional landscaping, including drainage ditches, which she digs like a pro. Quite a feat for 107 pounds of dainty femininity.

A graduate of Stanford University, Mrs. Planz did graduate work at the University of California and earned her Master's Degree from that university.

In the 1930's she went to Boston where she did medical research at Massachusetts General Hospital, the first social worker to be requested from the West by the East.

Returning to California shortly before the war, she supervised a clinic in Alameda and was married. Soon after the birth of her daughter Sandra, now a senior at San Jose State majoring in commercial art, Mrs. Planz returned to work for the San Francisco Welfare Department.

With the outbreak of World War II, she was loaned to the Federal Government to help in the evacuation of aliens. She said, "It was an eight week program, seven days a week and all hours."

Her second child, a son, Tyson, was born soon after the war and she took time out from her professional work to raise her children.

Tyke, as she calls her son, is a junior at Acalanes where he is a member of the Ski Club.

A young man with many hobbies he has a particular interest in wild life and his mother has had everything from chipmunks to fish about the house. Together they have fed and housed generations of wild birds.

Her warm and sympathetic personality makes her the kind of Mother, who after coping with legions of little wild folk can still say with enthusiasm, "It's a wonderful fun to have a son, it broadens your scope."

Mrs. Planz' retirement is not all gardening by any means. A sports enthusiast, she had just returned from 18 holes of golf on the day she was interviewed, the first golf she had played in 15 years.

Tennis is her favorite sport and at home she loves to sew. She is a skilled knitter and designs and knits many of her own dresses. A keen mathematician, she figures out the designs by counting stitches to pinpoint accuracy of design.

On The Lighter Side

By CONNIE KIENY

Did you ever mail your own Christmas packages to your husband, to your children and to yourself? Well, Dick and Thelma Rockwell did but with very good reason!

They are having two wonderful weeks in El Paso, Texas and to make sure that St. Nick had no trouble finding them Christmas Day, they had the Post Office bring their Christmas tidings to them.

Lafayette's Jean and Dick Emory gave Santa advance notice that they would be in their hometown for Christmas and their many Cleveland, Ohio friends and relatives shared a festive Christmas with them. Highlighted on their trip was a tour of Chicago which was particularly enjoyed by the Emory's children.

Returning to the area for the holiday season, were Kit and Ray Ouer who with daughter, Monarae, enjoyed the luxury of the Claremont Hotel. Friends gathered at many parties in their honor, including one given by the C. R. Disharons of Lafayette. Many pleasant memories returned to Auburn, Indiana with the Ouers.

Holiday Parties Galore

Enjoying the coffee and Christmas goodies were Bunny Walker, Frances Sass, Florence Hawkins, Virginia Smith and Hilma Heaton. Conversation centered on the tremendous success of the Lafayette Suburban Juniors' "Angel Auction" and the angel who did such a wonderful job of organizing it, Virginia Anderson.

The Swallow unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center combined Christmas fun, with a business meeting and election of new officers recently at the Casa Orinda.

Feted at the luncheon party were outgoing president, Lois Simonds and the new prexy, Jean Emory.

Added excitement to the meeting was the announcement by Jean White that she is on the stork's list. After nine years of marriage without the patter of little feet around the house, Jean and Bill are pretty happy about this anticipated addition.

Sons and Daughters Feted

Ruby and Bill Banks started off their Christmas season with an open house for their many friends and son, Mike, did the same with a dance party for his friends.

Ann and Howard Hearn opened their house with a dance party for daughter, Pamela. Pat and Paul Kapci are among the dinner party entertainers as well as Bill and Ginny Simpson who leave after Christmas for a glorious trip to Mexico City.

The George Bradleys of Moraga were hosts at a cocktail party for departing Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Davis. The Dudleys are moving to Cleveland, Ohio, and gathering together to wish them luck and happiness were Mr. and Mrs. James Reiger, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Preece, Mr. and Mrs. Ken McCampbell, Mr. and Mrs. John Tarpoley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lund, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carey and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Collings.

Hosts to a cocktail-pot luck party for their "Duplicate Group" were Mr. and Mrs. George Bradley. Don't know what they duplicate, but among the guests were Lt. Com. and Mrs. James Hennessey, the Robert Witts, John Tarpoley, Bruce Rosenblatts, Bank Bagleys and P. B. Christensens.

The Orinda Country Club's Women Golfers had a DELIGHTFUL time at their annual Christmas party last Thursday. The ladies enjoyed nine holes of golf, a putting contest which was held in the library—golf balls were awarded the winners—and later exchanged small gifts.

Lady Golfers' Officers

The retiring captain Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carter relinquished the gavel to Mrs. Allen Ayers who will head this energetic group next year. The new tournament chairman is Mrs. Bannister; treasurer, Mrs. Eugene Payne and secretary, Mrs. Clinton Eastwood.

The decorations for the party this year were exceptionally lovely and chairman of the committee was Mrs. Carl Rank, ably assisted by Mrs. Tom Carlson.

Conspicuous by their presence were club pro Pat Patton and assistant pro, Frank Benicasa. . . . This is a ladies group, NO? The George Merrimans of Sleepy Hollow gave their annual "bauble party" and as usual, was FABULOUS! . . . A large cocktail and dinner affair, with everyone bringing a bauble to decorate the tree with prizes given for the most unusual ones. This, on December 19, and with a nice LONG weekend for entertaining this Christmas, Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Krotz have planned a dinner party for a group of local Orindans on December 26.

Mrs. Krotz, as many of you know, is vice-president of the Northern California Republican Women's Club. . . . The Frank Davies of Orinda are having "open house" on December 27 and congratulations to Fran who is the new president of the Oriole unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Families, Friends Gather

A pre-Christmas dinner party at Carl and Joyce Marino's Saturday night for a group of close friends; Werner and Gloria Peterson of Walnut Creek, Fred and Betty Gore of Concord and Bernard and Peg Gross of Oakland. Gloria and Bernard, by the way, are God-parents to the latest Marino off-spring, Lesley.

Golfers Eye Fairway Togs At Yuletide, Pro Reports

The nation's golfers are looking forward to the Yuletide Season with real eagerness. It's the time of the year when they acquire their fairway wardrobes, as well as golfing equipment.

THIS IS THE report from Chick Harbert, one of the nation's most outstanding professional golfers who himself is classified as one of the best dressed sportsmen in the nation's golfing circles, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

"As a professional," Harbert said, "I know that Christmas time is a season when the greatest spotlight is thrown on fashionable wearing apparel for the golfer. While the proper clubs and equipment are important, no golfer ever has everything he needs in the way of effective wearing apparel."

"Wives and families know this, and that is why at Christmas time the golfer has his best opportunity to acquire the type of clothing which puts him in fine style out on the fairway."

Harbert, whose record includes legendary driving feats such as the 358 yard poke in the 1950 Havana Pro-Am contest, said more than 3,000,000 men were on the golf courses during 1959—an increase of a million over the same period ten years ago.

"It is pretty evident," he said, "that more men than ever before are playing golf."

It is also evident, in the eyes of a professional, that golfers are better dressed than ever before. You see many 'peacocks' on the greens, and while clothes don't make the golfer, it certainly makes them better dressed golfers and happier golfers."

Harbert said that golf has gone through a transitional period in which women are more conscious of golf than ever before. He pointed out that more than 800,000 women are joining their husbands and boy friends on the golf courses.

"IT USED TO BE that golfers would get out on the course wearing old slacks and sloppy clothes," he said. "You do not find that now. Women are more conscious of the need of everyone to dress appropriately on the fairways and they want their husbands to dress better. The effect has been tremendous, and you see some outstanding styles and ensembles on the courses."

The professional pointed out the so-called "stag club" still is noted for the poorest dressed golfers. Since women aren't allowed on these particular courses, the ladies aren't the guiding influence they are in the clubs that are open to both men and women.

Harbert pointed out today's golfers have gone more to knit goods, particularly in the area of shirts. The loosely woven material gives plenty of freedom in swinging the golf clubs and is much more practical.

He pointed to expandable waistbands in slacks and plenty of waist and hip freedom as necessary for a good golf game. He said he personally preferred heavy shoes which provide good foundation for that all-important swing. He is partial to knit sweaters although he occasionally wears a jacket as a more suitable windbreaker. The sweaters and jackets for the golfer now provide more shoulder room for necessary maneuvers in handling the golf clubs.

"THE RANKS of the golf professionals today," Harbert said, "contain many men who have risen from the ranks of caddies and many men who have graduated from college and who have gone into golf as a profession. "There are, in fact, business men who know the importance of dressing properly. They agree with me that appearance is as important in our golf business as it is in any other business."

"A man who has golfing as his career, and who is on view to the public day after day, knows the value of proper dress. He not only pays great attention to his irons and woods and other golf accessories, but also pays constant attention to the way he looks on the golf course. He finds, as I have found, that you do play better golf when you look your best."

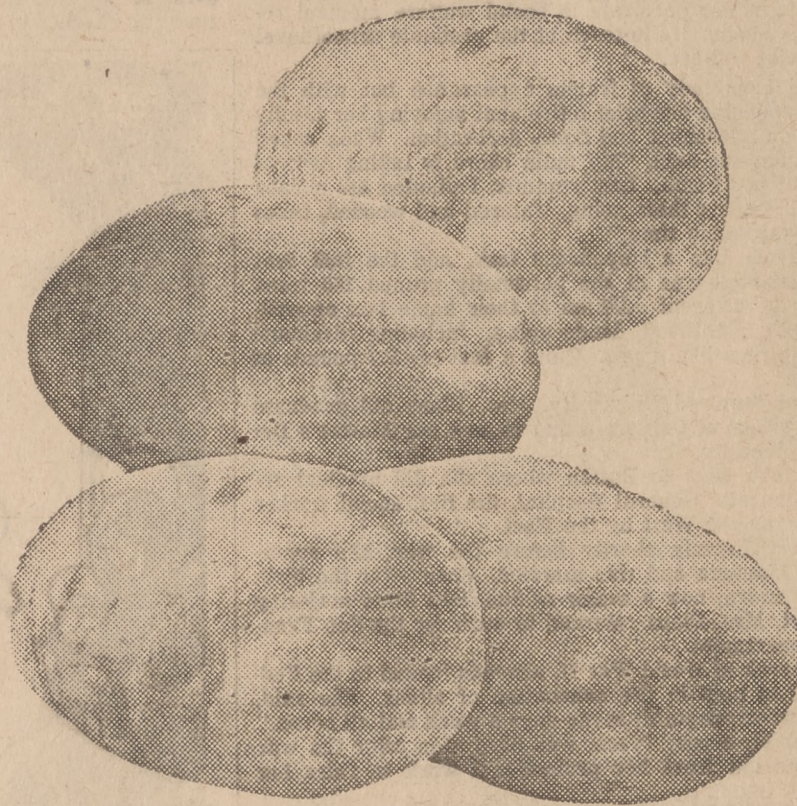

He said wives whose husbands and sons are golf enthusiasts "can't go wrong" putting selections of new golf clothes under the Christmas tree for them.

HARBERT WAS captain of the U. S. Ryder Cup team in 1955, and, teamed with Ed Furgol, won the International Team Championship over 25 foreign countries. He has won the National PGA Championship as well as many other top national professional golf competitions.

He is vice president of the Burke Golf Equipment Corporation, a division of Comptometer Corporation.

Judge Says Over 40,000 Live in Area

Superior Court Judge Norman A. Gregg recently signed a memorandum of decision in which he states it has been clearly shown the area served by the Walnut Creek court has more than the 40,000 residents necessary to force creation of a Municipal Court.

The memorandum gives opponents to creation of the court time to voice objections before the judge makes his decision final.

HOWEVER, JUDGE Gregg took under submission a complicated suit designed to force the court's establishment.

Judge Gregg said he questioned the procedure followed by Oakland attorney Edward J. Rice in filing the action.

Rice, representing defendant Fred Glatt of 2832 Jones Road, Walnut Creek, in a $600 damage action filed in Concord Municipal Court, sought a change of venue to the Walnut Creek court.

He sued Concord Judge Louis J. McKannan after he denied the transfer and ruled the Walnut Creek court was a justice court and could try cases involving $500 or less.

IN SIMILAR SUITS to establish municipal courts in the county action was taken by the plaintiff, who filed a suit in justice court. The plaintiff then filed a mandamus action against the justice court judge after he denied jurisdiction and ordered the case transferred to the nearest Municipal Court.

If Rice's suit or a subsequent action is successful, the justice court immediately will become a municipal court with jurisdiction to hear damage and other civil suits involving up to $3000.

Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn will automatically advance from $8000 to $13,000 annually in salary. Similar increases will be automatic for the constable, who will become marshal, and clerks and other court attaches.

JUDGE GREGG received testimony that the area served by the Walnut Creek court has 28,793 registered voters.

Under an accepted state formula of three residents for each registration, the district would have 86,379 residents, or more than double the required number.

Special S Squad Created by Young To Fight Crime

A special "Suppression Squad" of sheriff's deputies was created last Friday by Sheriff Walter F.
Young.

The new squad will patrol areas where the crime rate is the heaviest, Young commented.

The new detachment of men is similar to Oakland's Third Platoon and San Francisco's Operation S which concentrate on heavy crime areas, Young noted.

As a first step, the sheriff promoted three deputies and transferred them from the detention division to the patrol division.

Young is scheduled to hand
pick three men from the patrol division to be the first men to serve on the new "S" squad.

Promoted from Grade I to Grade II deputies were: Arthur
L. Sullivan, 2817 Hillsdale Drive,
Walnut Creek; Alfredo Capobianco, Richmond, and Joseph P.
McKeown, Pinole.

Young said the new squad will be dispatched to areas where the crime situation suddenly takes a turn for the worse.

Particular attention will be paid to burglaries, assaults, robberies and outbreaks of juvenile violence.

The squad will also be in attendance at youthful "rock and roll" dances, which occasionally get out of hand, the sheriff said.

An important part of the new operation, Young explained, will be a series of maps.

Heavy crime areas will be marked with pins and the sheriff's office will keep statistics on where outbreaks of lawlessness occur.

$20,000 Pledged By Area Realtors

A $20,000 pledge, endowing the lobby of John Muir Memorial Hospital, has been made by realtors and real estate salesmen of the Central Contra Costa area.

Signing the pledge on their behalf were Bill Hayward, A. J.
Johnson, and William F. Anderson.

The Soroptimist Club of Lafayette and Orinda, with 29 active members, has given $500 to the building fund.

"Our group feels that the new hospital for this area is a really worthwhile project," said Soroptimist President Miss Jane Pa-torio, who is principal of Happy Valley School.

Mrs. Robert Vossler of Lafayette is the club's vice-president.

These gifts bring the hospital building fund to over $206,000 of its $750,000 campaign goal, said
Mrs. Frank Malley from John Muir Memorial Hospital Headquarters, 1359 Locust Street.

Rooms already designated as advance gifts include the hospital nursery, admitting office, recovery room, and lobby.

Council Okays Parking Lot, Rezoning

Walnut Creek councilmen recently approved a parking lot permit for R. E. Nottingham and
"continued" a discussion of commercial rezoning for Paul Nave.

Nottingham had asked for a use permit to build the lot on the east side of North Broadway between Cariback and Civic Drive.

Loy Dale Wright, attorney for Nave, said his client would like either C-3 or C-4 zoning, but believes C-4 is better zoning, since C-4 is already across from his lot on the east side of Newell
Avenue, south of San Miguel
Drive.

He did not stipulate what Nave
plans to do with the lot.

The councilmen also adopted the ordinance zoning the Duffel annexation for 15,000 square foot minimum lots, introduced the ordinance establishing a Board of Zoning Adjustment (over Councilman William von Tegen's dissent) counted the absentee ballots in the White Estates annexation, which made the final vote, 27-0.

They accepted with regret the resignation of Richard Bourke as the city's assistant civil defense director. Bourke said his business takes him too far from the area.

Average per capita income in

Robert Desmond to Head Unique European Trip

Dr. Robert W. Desmond, 55 La Cuesta, professor of journalism at the University of California, Berkeley, will serve as academic director of a select group of Americans who will visit and study in most of the countries in Europe next summer.

Desmond, who holds a doctorate in political science from the University of London, was academic director of a similar special tour through Europe in 1952.

BUT HE IS LOOKING forward to next summer's trip with even more enthusiasm than that which preceded the journey eight years ago because the coming trip will include visits to Eastern Europe and the U.S.S.R.

The local resident describes the tour as one "especially planned to enable intelligent men and women, including mature students, to get behind the scenes (in Europe) in a manner rarely, if ever, possible for the tourist, or even persons of official status."

He explained that the small select group will have opportunity to meet with leaders of government, the press and the arts, to question them, to attend special lectures and seminars and to gain an insight into the thinking that will shape actions and decisions in Europe certain

Winners Named For Third Annual Gloriotta Event

Top prize in the third annual Christmas lighting contest of the Gloriotta Improvement Association went to E. P. Collins, 24 Rheem Boulevard, according to W. Neill Porter, president of the association and chairman of the contest.

The festive effect of a flood-light flashing on a gaily decorated front door meant a $25 U.S. Savings Bond as an extra Christmas gift for Collins. Porter delivered the bond early this week.

JUDGING OF THE outdoor decorations in the Gloriotta area was performed Saturday and Sunday evenings, and any decorations not lighted when the judges made their rounds were disregarded.

This year's judges for the competition were Robert Washmirth, 196 Moraga Highway, and Mrs. Carlton D. Moore, 72 Camino de Encinas, in addition to Porter.

A total of 13 prizes were awarded, according to Porter, and with the exception of the bond, all were donated by Orinda area merchants.

OTHER WINNERS, in the order of their selection, were T. M. Harter, 7 Oaks Circle; Del Courtney, 22 Moraga Via; James E. Hill, 2 Idyll Court; Adolph Giachetti, 115 Gloriotta Boulevard; Harold V. Libbey, 15 Valley Drive; W. M. Powell, 48 Rheem Boulevard.

And U. W. Odman, 9 Abbott Court; George T. Talbott, 25 Moraga Via; R. C. Horne, 27 Rheem Boulevard; K. D. Dettling, 5 Sally Ann Road; Hyzer Jones, Jr., 45 Moraga Via; and J. S. Fraser, 116 Gloriotta Boulevard.

Libbey, the sixth place winner, was top award winner in the 1958 contest, Porter said.

THE ASSOCIATION president said, "The interest shown by residents of the area is deeply appreciated and the officers and directors especially want to thank the firemen of the Orchard Road firehouse for putting up their own lighted Christmas tree."

Porter added thanks to the following merchants who donated prizes for the contest:

Black's Market, Orchard Nursery, Sprouse-Reitz, Moraga Nursery, Casa Orinda, Mike Lynn's Restaurant, Orinda Hardware, Orinda Camera Shop, Ogden's, Bill's Beauty Studio, Ned Delaveaga's Chevron Service and the Orinda Pharmacy.

Christmas Was Not This Bright 18 Years Ago

Tomorrow will be a far different Christmas for Herbert C. Freuler, 12 El Pulgar, than the one he spent 18 years ago.

It was just a few days before Christmas, 1941, that Freuler, then a Marine captain, landed his wrecked Wildcat fighter plane on the landing strip of strife-torn Wake Island in the Pacific.

THE LANDING was made after Captain Freuler and his companion, who was killed during the landing, took the last serviceable Marine fighters into an air battle against Japanese planes which outnumbered them 60 to 1.

During the fight, the Orinda resident managed to shoot down two of the enemy craft, but when he landed his plane his shoulder was torn by Japanese slugs, his parachute was in shreds and his plane was battered.

Freuler, who today is a retired Marine Corps brigadier general, lost consciousness immediately after he successfully landed his plane, and he was in the hospital on Christmas Day, 1941, and also when Wake was surrendered to the Japanese about the same time.

IT IS NOT LIKELY that Freuler will purposely let his thoughts drift back the 18 years tomorrow, because he is now leading a much different and serene life.

He is a student at the University of California at Berkeley, where he is taking additional studies which he hopes will lead him to a chemistry teaching position in some high school or college.

Freuler received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry at Cal in 1929, but before that he had earned a ROTC commission in Army ordnance and had attended a Naval Reserve ground school course at Oakland Naval Air Station.

HE WORKED AS a research chemist for about a year and then enlisted in the Marine Corps as a private in order to attend the Naval Aviation Flying School at Pensacola, Florida.

Freuler was commissioned in

The Problem Is Already Here -- It Can Get Worse

Do your eyes burn and sting?
Do you feel like somebody has stuffed your nose with cotton?
Have you had small hammers pounding in the back of your head?

We hope not, but if this has happened to you occasionally in the Bay Area, it could very well be that old devil smog!

We don't want to sound like alarmists, but if you drive through the tunnel one of these days, you might notice that that haze in the atmosphere is honest-to-goodness smog, just like they have in Los Angeles.

And if you're really perceptive, you might notice that we are getting our share of it right here in Central Contra Costa County.

YOU CAN FREQUENTLY smell the petroleum fumes from the Martinez area, and sometimes you can even detect the odor from the plants as far away as Antioch and Pittsburg.

We happen to think that Smog Fighter Benjamin Linsky is on the right track when he insists on immediate enforcement of smog control measures. Unfortunately there are others who do not think this way.

Recently the advisory council of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District recommended a five year moratorium on enforcement of the strictest smog control regulations for certain types of industries.

This group, which is, fortunately, only advisory, rejected a proposal by Linsky that all companies be required to comply with the full regulations scheduled to be adopted next spring.

OF COURSE THERE is no cut and dried "right and wrong" answer to this question. Certainly it might be an expensive measure for some of these industries to install control devices to meet the requirements of the law, and they may need time to purchase these items.

But unfortunately, we don't have time, because smog is here, and as our population increases, it will increase unless something is done right now.

And, to make the cheese more binding, we must realize that it might very well be expensive for us, as homeowners and drivers, too.

If we must all put devices on our automobiles to control the emissions of our exhaust gasses, then it is going to cost us money—some estimate as much as $200 per automobile.

BUT WE'LL HAVE to do it unless we want to live in a continual evil-smelling haze.

And if restrictions on open burning cause us to dispose of our burnable trash and rubbish, then we are going to have to pay to have it disposed of some other way, and this will come directly out of our individual pocketbooks.

The point is, there can be no half-way measures. This is a problem that can only be cured by 100 per cent cooperation of individuals and industry. It will be expensive, granted, but it is an absolute necessity.

We are proud of our community, and proud of the beautiful countryside around us. We have a tremendous investment here. That investment should be protected, and frankly, we can think of few things that would cause more harm than a serious smog problem.

We already have smog. We are going to have to fight, and pay, to see that it does not get any worse.

And much of the answer to that problem is going to lie right with us.

Could It Happen Here...?

Christmas time is a time of rejoicing, and should not be a time of sorrow and misery.

Yet that is exactly what has happened, to many people, and will probably happen again.

It could happen to you, if you think seriously about it.

Last year at this time The Sun devoted many inches of space to a family which was essentially wiped out by a fire. The mother and one child were killed. The father and another child escaped.

THIS IS NOT THE kind of thing one likes to see happen anytime, and when you consider the utter lack of necessity for such a tragedy, it becomes even more ironic when it occurs.

As you read this, the lights on your Christmas tree are probably glowing brightly, and the chances are there are candles decorating your home.

If it is evening, all you have to do is look out the nearest window to see that your neighbors are celebrating with similar lighting effects.

But just how safe is your home, and your family?

It is easy to answer this question by saying, "I know everything is safe here, I've been doing it this way for years. But my neighbor is a darn fool, you should see HIS setup!"

Have you been "doing it this way for years?" Have you actually looked at the strings of lights you are using on your tree, and outside, to see if they are frayed or worn?

Is your tree already so dried out that it is a potential fiery explosion just standing in the corner waiting to be ignited?

IS YOUR TREE connected to a socket with a switch so you can turn off the lights at some distance from the tree?

Do you still have wrappings and inflammable material stacked at the base of the tree waiting to set off the inferno?

Are any of the needles on your tree turning brown because they are near light bulbs?

And of course you're not using candles on or near the tree, are you?

Certainly it looks nice, but you don't have an electric train running merrily about the base of the tree, do you?

If you can answer any of these questions in the affirmative, you had better take a close look at your own home!

NOBODY WANTS to invite tragedy during the Christmas season. Nobody wants to see a member of his family seriously burned, or killed, because of thoughtlessness.

But it happened right here last year, and it could happen again. Why not take a look around now, at your own home, and make sure it doesn't happen to you.

You'll have a happier holiday season if you are certain that your family is safe from harm.

The Play's the Thing!!

By BOB RAPIDA

"... you might win the game play by play."

This quotation appeared on the Sun Sports Page last week. It's a typical sports quotation which on the surface means little.

BUT, THIS particular phrase seems to mean much more than the everyday euphemism which is casually passed. At this time of the year, Christmas, it seems to carry far more impact, far more meaning, far more good sense than any other phrase which may be applied to our day by day, month by month way of life.

The game, the task, of course, really doesn't matter. However, the way in which we play is the stuff by which we judge and are judged.

The religious meaning of Christmas is important to many. To many, the spirit of Christmas, the fellowship of Christmas, the glitter of Christmas in children's eyes depicts its true meaning.

Just as many athletes are described in the jargon and with the cliché of the sports writer, so also has Christmas been reduced to the spur of the moment thought of the Christmas card writer and fly-by-night Santa Claus.

CHRISTMAS, JUST as the thought of the game, will soon be forgotten, only to be revived again when the occasion fits.

It could be better to think of Christmas as the game and that each act during the year is that one play which leads to a time of celebration. The time when the game, at least for that year, is won.

It seems too easy to put the words down on paper. Perhaps, the person who first thought of life as a game and each act in life as a play found the words came very easily, but I wonder if he lived up to his words.

In coining the phrase, a code was set down which could well do away with confused ethics, mores and behaviorisms and return man's basic dignity.

If this code were followed, if the platitudes of Christmas were adhered to more than in passing, we would not have need for the American Civil Liberties Union, the NAACP nor the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

CHRISTMAS AND SPORTS pages have little in common, but perhaps if the thought which emulated from the sports page were carried through every day of the year, the spirit of Christmas would not be such a flighty thing to grasp.

Family, friends, everyday labor are each a play in the game. And, if each is given its proper attention and devotion, the game will be won.

If we have won the game, let us then enjoy our reward: A Merry, Merry Christmas.

Yule May Be Boring, But It Doesn't Have to Be...

By REV. WAYNE H. LONG
of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church

Strange to say, for many people the Christmas season is a tiring and boring experience. The rush and crush of buying, the mess and fuss of entertaining, the stress and strain of budget balancing, the accumulation of bills galore: these tend to divest it of religious significance and drain it of spiritual inspiration.

To Christians the holy festival must not become a hectic carnival. All that is done must be in the Christian spirit of love and good will, and in Christian faith and patience we must possess our souls.

Christmas is for Christ — we celebrate His birthday at Christmas. It is a time to remember God's love. It is a time to demonstrate Jesus' teachings of love and good will and unselfishness. To Him I offer my stubborn will, my badly worn and threadbare temper, my old grudge and bitterness, prejudice and other unworthy habits and attitudes wrapped in a shining spirit of forgiveness and tied with the red ribbon of love.

I AM WILLING to offer these because of His loving gifts to me received through my regular attendance and privilege of giving of my tithes and offerings to Him.

An unknown author has provided us with this tribute to The Incomparable Christ: "More than 1900 years ago there was born a man contrary to the laws of life. This man lived in poverty and was reared in obscurity.

"He did not travel extensively. Only once did He cross the boundary of the country in which He lived; that was during His exile as a baby. He possessed neither wealth nor influence. His relatives were inconspicuous, influential, and had neither training nor education. In infancy He startled a king. In childhood He puzzled the doctors. In manhood He ruled the course of nature, walking upon the billows as if they were pavements, and hushing the sea to sleep. He never wrote a book, and yet all the libraries of the country could not hold the books that have been written about Him.

"HE NEVER WROTE a song, and yet He furnished the theme for more songs than all the song writers combined. He never founded a college, but all the schools together cannot boast of having as many students. He never practiced medicine, yet He has healed more broken hearts than all the doctors far and near.

"He never marshalled an army, nor drafted a soldier, nor fired a gun, and yet no leader ever had more volunteers for His cause than has He. Every seventh day the wheels of commerce cease their turning and multitudes wend their way to worshiping assemblies to pay homage and respect to Him.

THE NAMES OF THE past proud statesmen of Greece and Rome have come and gone, but the name of this man abounds more and more. Though time has spread 1900 years between the people of this generation and the scene of His crucifixion, yet He still lives. Herod could not kill Him, Satan could not seduce Him, death could not destroy Him, and the grave could not hold Him.

"He stands forth upon the highest pinnacle of heavenly glory, proclaimed of God, acknowledged by angels, adored by saints and praised by millions on earth today, as the living personal Christ, the one true Lord and Saviour."

This Christmas may that be our tribute also to Jesus Christ, our Lord and Saviour.

All This, And More, too!

It's Really Up to Us...

By Rev. H. W. Van Delinder
Community Presbyterian Church, Danville

Christmas will mean to us just as much as our own moral and spiritual insight and energy will allow it to mean. To thousands it is just a holiday, a welcome break in the work day week, a time of feasting and merriment, of home reunions and genial goodwill. All of which is good.

BUT CHRISTMAS is meant to be so much more, and it fails to give us the blessing that it should unless it brings us to Christ, unless with the shepherds we rise and go to Bethlehem and see for ourselves this thing that is come to pass.

What is it that we see? What is this thing that is come to pass? A babe, wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger? Yes, and His name is called Jesus. We know the oft repeated and time honored phrases about Him. But do we believe them? Have we made Faith our personal possession? Or has some weakness of spiritual insight blinded us to the glory and wonder of it all? Has some lack of moral energy, of willingness to act, robbed us of its blessing?

He comes to us in the generous impulses which Christmas stirs within us. He steps out of the Gospel pages as we read them with discerning eye and responsive spirit. He comes in all the varied experiences of everyday life, if we have eyes to see. He is always available, always ready to meet our need, whatever it may be.

May this Christmas season move us to pray for deeper spiritual insight and the spiritual energy and courage to be obedient to the heavenly vision, so that in our lives we may prove His power, and experience, the rich blessing which He alone can give.

The Real Christmas Is...

Well, More Than Tinsel!

THE REAL CHRISTMAS—Handset .....
By Rev. Melvin A. Pekrul
Minister of the Valley Baptist Church, Walnut Creek.

What is Christmas all about? Tinsel, lights, holly, bells, music, gifts? . . . Perhaps these may be included . . . But it is so much more.

The real Christmas is the old, yet ever new story of God's love, and "those who know it best seem hungering and thirsting to hear it like the rest."

Thus Christmas has become the great symbol of hope. But has any hope ever seemed less likely to be fulfilled than the one which was born in Bethlehem that gray December night nearly 2000 years ago? What an impossible claim! A newborn infant proclaimed as a challenge to the sprawling night of the Roman Empire! The gentle Jesus pitted against Caesar!

AND YET, WHAT of Caesar's might today? His armies are history, his empire has crumbled, his influence has long vanished. But the things of which Jesus spoke . . . those intangible ideals, those words of hope . . . have outlasted the material world in which they were spoken and have become more powerful with the passing of the centuries. This is the basis for the hope that is born again each Christmas Day.

How vain it sometimes seems to believe that love and good will can triumph over the organized hate and the evil power abroad in our world today. It seems such an unequal contest. How then, confronted with the grim reality of life in this atomic age, can we find hope in the lovely but seemingly outdated story of Christmas?

Where does one begin?
WE BEGIN WHERE they began who gathered about the manger. Is our world a difficult one? So was theirs. We have so sentimentalized Christmas that we have little comprehension of the bloody, callous, violent time into which the Christ child was born. If the little group in the stable had looked at the ugliness and injustice that filled their world, they might have cried in despair, "Look what the world has come to!" Instead, they looked at the Son of God asleep on the straw and cried out, "Look what has come to the world!"

How can we make the hope of Christmas a reality today? We must first of all let Christmas happen to us. Christ, and all that He stood for, must first find a place in our lives. He must become a real spiritual presence living within us.

THEN CHRISTMAS WILL be more than a historical event or colorful festival but an expression of God's love and the description of a wonderful new kind of life. Thus to try and keep Christmas and yet not receive Christ as Saviour or live by His teachings is impossible or frustrating.

Let us, therefore, go this Christmas unto Bethlehem "and see this thing that has happened." Let us pray to God that it may happen to us.

High Schools Expect 6000 Pupils Within Five Years

Acalanes High School District trustees this week heard an updated projection of enrollment growth ahead for the Acalanes high schools. The revised projection is based on an original survey made by Stanford University consultants in 1955.

Latest review of enrollment projections indicates the following according to the Stanford consultant group:

1. LAST YEAR there was a net growth of 1213 pupils in the first to twelfth grade range in the area covered by the Acalanes District (Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette and Walnut Creek);

2. The recent recession and slowdown in home building has tended to flatten in-migration somewhat;

3. However, revised projections indicate continued growth, with the high school enrollment moving from its present 3793 to 6060 in five years, 1964.

THE CONSULTANT group will make a second report to trustees on their updated study. The second report, scheduled for completion by January, will review ultimate enrollment projections for the Acalanes secondary district.

In other action trustees proposed a shift in attendance boundaries next year for the district's newest high school, Del Valle in Tice Valley. Trustees noted that without some modification, enrollment at Acalanes High next year will be "crowding" facilities in the Lafayette high school.

In order to keep enrollment within capacity at Acalanes and utilize the room available at Del Valle, the proposal provides that elementary pupils from Merriewood and Burton Elementary schools in Lafayette, be included in the Del Valle High attendance area.

ENROLLMENT AT Acalanes is currently 1340 and would move up to approximately 1500 next year. With the attendance proposal contemplated, Acalanes would remain about where it is enrollment-wise and Del Valle would move up to 500 pupils next year.

The 500 Del Valle students would be ninth and tenth graders since the Tice Valley high school is adding a grade each year as the initial freshman class moves towards its twelfth year. A new wing is currently under construction at Del Valle to meet enrollment anticipation.

Elementary officials in the schools concerned are being notified of the attendance shift for Del Valle. A final discussion of the proposal will be made at the January 11 meeting of the high school board.

IN OTHER ACTION trustees:

1. Heard a request by Dr. Paul Slattery of the Orinda Rotary Club that the schools take over the summer work program initiated last year by Rotary at Miramonte High in Orinda. The program places students in hospitals and other facilities for volunteer summer work. Trustees directed Superintendent Neil M. Parsons to make inquiries in communities which provide such placement and to report a recommendation at the next board meeting.

2. Directed a change in district policy concerning interview of students by law enforcement officers while students are in the charge of the schools. Former policy required the attendance of a school authority during such an interview. The regulation requiring attendance of a school authority has been changed to allow an exception where "exceptional cases approved by the principal make it apparent that the best interests of the student would be served by privacy." As in the earlier policy, parents must be notified of the conference.

3. ACCEPTED AS "complete" site work at Del Valle High; accepted a bid for $7330 by Fred Von Guenther Co. for installation of fencing around the Miramonte pool; approved sale of a strip of land at the district's Rheem school site to the County Public Works Department at the same price paid for the parcel by the school district; approved implementation of the same type of transportation contract with participating elementary districts that has been in force, for the

Cross Appeal Filed; Aims Damage Suit at State DMV

The Department of Motor Vehicles' "get tough" policy on drunk drivers was met head on today by a series of legal maneuvers aimed at having the department held financially responsible for its actions.

Harold H. Turner, partner in the Walnut Creek law firm of Ring, Turner, Ring and Wright, filed a cross appeal with the First District Court of Appeals in San Francisco, demanding payment for damages incurred by George Henry Sauer, 41, Diablo contractor, from Robert L. McCarthy, director of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.

SUPERIOR COURT Judge John Raines ruled in Contra Costa recently that McCarthy acted "without power" in Sauer's case and ordered the DMV to return Sauer's drivers license to him.

The judge opined that the courts had already settled Sauer's drunk driving conviction by ordering a 30-day suspension following the contractor's guilty plea in the Palo Alto Judicial District last July.

McCarthy ordered Sauer's license suspended for an additional five months after the 30-day period of suspension ordered by the sentencing judge had elapsed.

McCarthy's action in the Sauer matter and the subsequent ruling by the Contra Costa judge, drew immediate attention from attorneys throughout the state. C. Terence Ring, senior partner in the firm, stated:

"Our firm has had offers of a assistance from attorneys throughout the state, including San Diego, Los Angeles, Oakland and Sacramento," he continued.

"IF THE APPELLATE decision is in our favor," Turner commented, "this could well pave the way for millions of dollars in suits aimed at the state by persons who have had their driving rights suspended under the department's policy."

Not only have attorneys become involved in the Sauer case, but Jerome R. Waldie, Democrat, 10th District, Contra Costa, accused McCarthy of using "improper means."

In a letter to McCarthy, Waldie wrote: "I do not quarrel with your objective nor with the objective Governor Brown provided you, (getting rid of drunk drivers). My quarrel lies with the means in which you are attempting to execute that objective."

"I AM CERTAIN you will agree that democracy requires a constant awareness of possible encroachments upon the rights of citizens by the executive branch under the guise of a proper end," the Antioch attorney, who was elected the "freshman assemblyman of the year," by the Capital Press Corps, concluded.

The actions by Sauer's attorneys from Governor Brown expressing "serious concern" at California's November traffic death toll of 367 persons, highest since December, 1956, when 418 perished.

McCarthy was quoted by the governor in a press statement that the DMV plans to continue its crackdown against negligent operators and convicted drunk drivers under which terms more than 50,000 motorists have already had their licenses suspended.

Turner lashed out at McCarthy's policy, charging McCarthy "is perpetrating an injustice against virtually thousands of drivers in California."

"THE DMV INSISTS on the continuation of suspension of drivers licenses, excepting Sauer, in opposition to the Superior Court ruling that the department has no such power," Turner charged.

RING AND WALDIE agree that the separation of the three branches of the government, executive, legislative and judicial, has no meaning, "if the executive continues to usurp the powers of the other two."

"Meanwhile," Turner added, "for thousands of drivers, their license suspensions have been illegally in effect for six months, but as McCarthy says:

"As a citizen, you really should not be alarmed that our democratic way of life is in peril because Governor Brown has ordered me to keep drunk drivers off our streets and highways."

"Regardless of the governor's and McCarthy's personal beliefs, when the Superior Court rules, it is for them to acquiesce to its order, otherwise our government of laws and not of men would not prevail as it must in a democracy," Turner concluded.

About two-thirds of the national research awards made by the American Heart Association last year are in the area of basic research, studies in fundamental chemical processes of the body.

Meet McGraw.....

MIRAMONTE BASKETBALL Coach Herb McGraw shows "floor play" to Athletic Director Don Phillips.

Herb McGraw the up and coming young hoop mentor of Miramonte appears to be doing a good job of filling the shoes of former head man Bob Callan who is the present Dean of Boys.

They were big shoes in as much as Callan's club had tied for the hoop title with Acalanes and Las Lomas in the 53-59 season.

COACH MCGRAW in on his first job as a high school mentor but comes with the experience behind him of having coached the University of California 145 pound club in which he did an outstanding job.

Herb was born in England and his last monicker was actually McGraw which his parents changed to McGraw, but hardly at Herb's date work and received his general secondary teaching credential.

It was there he went through grade schools and on to Berkeley High where he played basketball and also second base on the ball club while finding time to do enough studying to give him the coaching duties he teaches five better than B average necessary classes of freshman world his to get into the Davis Branch of tory.

HE STARTED with a green crew this year as graduation hit the Matadors heavy but his club has given an excellent account of itself to date and as Herb put it "things look bright for the future with three seniors on the first team.

The first five has three outstanding third year men in Jack Gilbert, Bill Caldwell and Doug Hudson. Gilbert in particular has come to the front in recent games with his scoring putting the Mats in the win column.

Milt Howe and Frank Feldman, a pair of seniors round out the first five.

The second unit has hit one senior in Bob Cooper with the other four all being juniors in Randy Thaman, Jim Tanascia, Walt Atorfer and Bob Welch.

ON THE BASIS of his work to date he is a comer in the coaching ranks who appears to have lots of wins ahead of him.

Incidentally he is not only a promising young coach, but he is single although, it is rumored that his defense is weakening.

Sideline Slants

Fouls Plus a Hats Off To Judd Van Matre & Wife

By ERWIN MATTSON

We are in the midst of basketball and one of the things I have observed is how many players cause their team to lose by fouling out.

It becomes a question of how close to guard and how much to avoid contact. The fact remains that a player on the bench can do no good for his team regardless of how great his ability.

A PLAYER HAS to realize that officials are going to call some fouls that are on the borderline. He should also realize that for everyone he calls chances are that the official misses one that he didn't see.

In fouling, the opposition is given a free shot and in many games it's a question of who gets the most points from the free throw line as to who wins. In fact it is surprising in close games how many are actually decided from the free throwline.

Recently a plaque was placed at the Little League Field at Acalanes High and a Sun article along with a picture followed the placing of the plaque.

A number of people were in the picture accompanying the article and while all those present had a hand in the field's construction one person was not present who certainly should not be forgotten.

The field's construction and operation was actually the work of a large group, but no one put more into it than Judd Van Matre.

I HAVE A SPECIAL feeling for Judd and his wife, Frances, who have given hours of time as well as money to the Youth Movement despite the fact they have no boys of their own in the program, only an interest in youth.

I have known Judd for a long time, in fact back from the time he was a top wrestler at the University of California where we had many a workout on the mats together.

It was Judd, at present an engineer for the City of Berkeley, who designed and then put in hours upon hours of work on installing the lights.

In addition to this he and his wife have donated the full use of an office room for the care and storage of the Lafayette Youth Baseball equipment.

In addition, they have sponsored Youth Baseball teams digging deep into their jeans for the do-ray-me!

To say they have been active in L.Y.A. is putting it mildly and it is with pleasure that I tender them both a salute for their untiring, but not unappreciated efforts.

Rams Surprise With Victory

The Pleasant Hill Rams who have been a surprise club in view of their thin squad as far as experience goes upset the dope bucket again on December 17 when they spilled the San Ramon Wolves in an overtime, 32-31, with Terry Hughes tanking the winning bucket.

In the game played at Danville, the Rams took a 7-3 first quarter advantage and held on for a 13-10 half time lead in the low scoring game.

It was 20-18 at the end of the third quarter with San Ramon picking up the necessary two points for a tie as they outscored the visitors in the fourth quarter.

In the overtime it was the Rams 7-6 thanks to Hughes' bucket which proved to be the margin between winning and losing.

The Rams' Dick Dole who appears to improve with each game hit the mesh for a tops of 15 points while teammate Bill Atkinson had seven.

The Wolves proved to be pretty much a two-man gang as a pair of players in Stu White with 14 and Wayne Farrell with 13 accounted for all but four of San Ramon's total.

John Cote, 'All Pro' Is Ice Ace

John Cote is a fine looking young man with a friendly personality that leaves a favorable impression on all who come in contact with him.

Working at the Lucky Store in Orinda he presents a cheerful personality and few would suspect that he is a hockey player and one of the best who has been an All Pro player and who in the course of his play on the ice has had his legs broken twice along with an arm and has suffered 51 different cuts from the sharp skates or the hockey sticks.

BORN AND RAISED in Quebec City in Canada he took to the ice for the first time when he was 4 1/2 years of age.

In natural steps he played in Little League, ages 12-16, and then moved on to senior play. The pro draft found him picked by the Montreal Royals and while with them he made All Pro center and in 1951 they won the professional championship.

1952-54 found him serving with the Canadian Army and on duty for two years in Europe.

1955 changed his life again when he came to the United States on the urging of a sister who had married Eddie Havel, a short stop with the Boston Braves which later became the Milwaukee Braves.

In coming to the United States he wound up in California which he found to be the most beautiful and friendly place he had ever been in.

IT WAS HERE that he decided to settle but had a problem in that he only spoke French but that became a temporary barrier as he went to night school at Mt. Diablo High in Concord to study English.

He gives a great deal of credit to Lon Hunt, area supervisor for Lucky Stores, and Paul Brown, manager of the Orinda store, who gave him a job and along with it friendship and encouragement for which he expressed time and again during his interview his eternal gratitude.

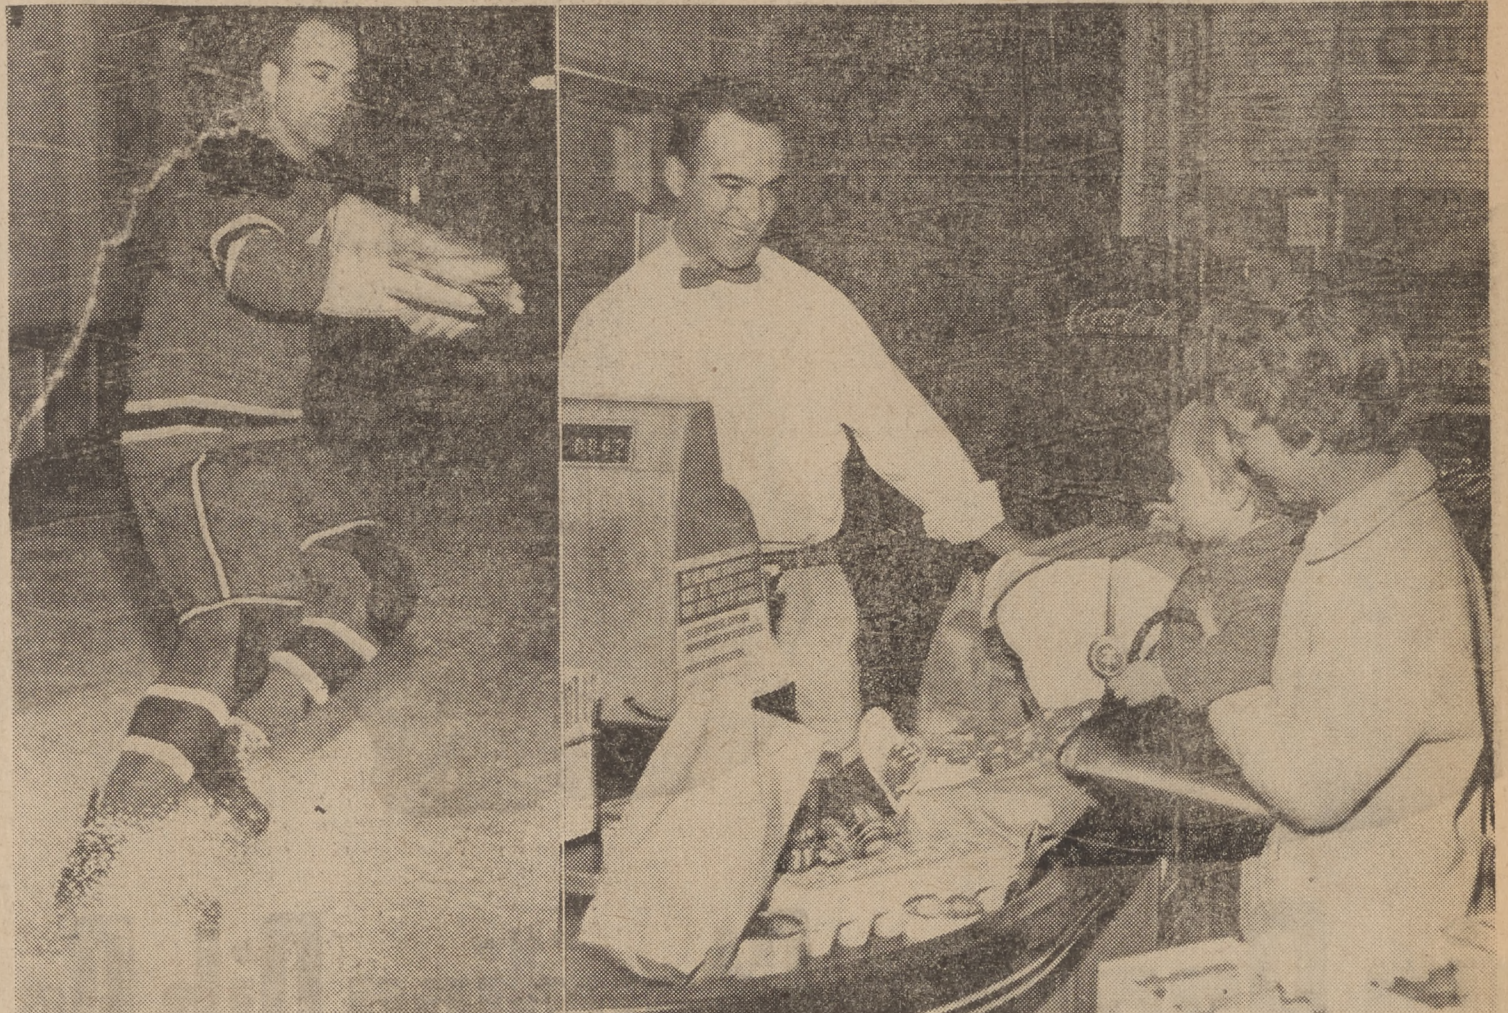

He is keeping active in his hockey playing with the Berkeley Jets at the Berkeley Ice Rink on Tuesday and Sundays.

He describes the ice game as being faster and rougher than football although a top player's career may last 16-18 years.

The crowds went as big as the 25,000 he played before in pro ball, but he finds the local game exciting and filling his need for competitive play.

THE CALIBER of play can be seen, for two of his teammates are George Duette, former pro with Buffalo, and Bob Cooks, who played for the famous New York Rangers. The Bay Area Amateur Hockey League has one big difference from the pros. You play for love of the game as there is no pay.

John is single and lives at 6 Lucille Way in Orinda.

Dons in Hunting Spree; Win 60-40

The Acalanes Dons had good up to help the Dons well in front hunting last Friday night and found the new Del Valle gym to their liking as they played their best game of the season to shoot Stagg High of Stockton full of holes as they won going away 60-40.

Stagg had a six game winning streak going into the game and ranked high as one of if not the San Joaquin Valley's best.

The Stockton five had two things in their favor—one was that they really controlled the boards getting 31 rebounds to 16 for the Dons and the other was Bob Garibaldi who made all Northern California as well as All American prep last season.

He managed 15 points in the nights play but had to work hard for them as a tight Acalanes defense bottled the visitors.

Matadors End Year With Win

The Miramonte Matadors playing at home December 17 wound up their 1959 play with an impressive 42-32 win over the invading Alhambra Bulldogs.

The game started slowly enough as Alhambra took a 7-5 first quarter lead only to have Miramonte break the game open in the second quarter with a 14 point output to take a 19-16 half mark lead never to be headed as they scored in the double figures in the third quarter with 12 points and 11 in the final canto.

Alhambra had but 5 in the third while matching the Mats with 11 in the fourth.

The Matadors' big gun was Jack Gilbert who wound up with 18 points with Milt Howe and Frank Feldman adding 7 apiece to the winning cause.

Alhambra had Larry Knapp, Dennis Watson and Tom Hoffman with 9 each.

In the Bee game Alhambra copped a 23-19 win.

DeAnza Quint Stopped 38-28

The Las Lomas-DeAnza game played at Richmond last Friday found both clubs having trouble finding the hoop with any regularity until the final quarter when for the first time each hit in the double figures. The Knights bagging 15 to DeAnza's 12.

The Knights won out 38-28 after leading 7-6 at the quarter mark, trailing 13-10 at the half and coming back to stay as they ended the third quarter ahead 18-16.

Bob Tuttle and Ted Greene paced DeAnzas attack with eight points apiece while Tom Nichols, the Knights ace hit for 12 and teammate Bob Nye tanked 8.

Murwood Has Holiday Play

A Christmas play was featured at the Murwood School PTA meeting last night. A number of children from each class participated.

Also featured on the same program were carols by the first and second grade students and a number of Christmas songs by the school orchestra.

The program was planned and produced by the Murwood teaching staff, with Miss DeWitt in charge.

Mrs. Hammer directed the play.

Boy Scout Commemorative Stamp to Be Issued Soon

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced that the four-cent Boy Scout 50th anniversary commemorative stamp will be placed on first-day sale at Washington, D. C., February 8, the birthday of the movement.

The stamp will feature a head and shoulders view of a Scout with the right hand upraised in the three-finger Scout sign.

This stamp, designed by the noted artist, Norman Rockwell, will be arranged horizontally, measuring 0.84 by 1.44 inches, and will be printed on the Giori press in khaki and blue. An initial order for 120 million of these stamps, to be released in panes of 50, has been authorized.

The likeness of a Scout will be printed in gradations of khaki, while the lettering "1910-1960" at the left, "Boy Scouts of America" across the top, "U. S. Postage" at the right, and the large "4c" in the field to the right, will be in blue.

When Postmaster General Summerfield authorized the stamp it was the unanimous opinion of the citizens' stamp advisory committee that Norman Rockwell, who had painted the official Boy Scout calendars, would be the logical artist to prepare the design. He began his career as an illustrator of the earliest issues of "Boy's Life" more than 45 years ago.

Rockwell studied at the Art Students League and was a pupil of George Bridgman and Thomas Fogarty. He is especially noted as a painter of magazine covers and illustrations, principally for the Saturday Evening Post. He is a member of the Society of American Illustrators and the Free Lance Artists of America.

A $20,000 CHECK comes from the Contra Costa Real Estate Board to the John Muir Hospital, to be used for construction of the lobby. The non-profit hospital will be located on Ygnacio Valley Road, east of Walnut Creek. Left to right, Realtor William F. ## Health Hints Posted by Dr. Blum Sincere wishes for a happy and healthful Yule season were expressed today by H. L. Blum, county health officer.

He pointed out, however, that the happy holiday season is frequently not so happy for many individuals or families. In this time of holiday hustle and bustle, inadequate food storage and preparation often results in a home outbreak of food poisoning.

Many inquiries about how food should be prepared and stored are received by the health department at this time of the year. In order to limit the hazard of food poisoning, Dr. Blum urges Contra Costa citizens to read and use the following basic rules for good food handling:

Food Preparation

1. No sick person, or persons with infected hands, should work in the kitchen.
2. Wash hands before handling food.
3. Handle food as little as possible. Use tongs, forks, or spatulas in serving.
4. Wash fruits and raw vegetables thoroughly.
5. Never serve food left from one person's plate to another, and keep fingers out of food and drink when serving.

6. Avoid preparing sandwiches in advance, or allowing them to stand without refrigeration.

Food Storage Hints

1. Store foods to allow free circulation of air.
2. Cover stored foods to prevent contamination.
3. Arrange refrigerator neatly, clean regularly, and check daily to eliminate keeping foods too long.
4. Place foods stored in refrigerator in shallow containers or in reasonably small batches.
5. Refrigerate foods promptly after preparation or use.
6. Cover very hot foods and cool in the air for not over a half hour before refrigerating.
7. Non-acid foods which cool or heat slowly, such as stuffings, are particularly dangerous and should be prepared freshly and promptly cooked on the morning of the day served.
8. An inexpensive refrigerator thermometer will let you know if you are keeping the temperature below 45 degrees F.

stopping and turning.
4. Keep your car in good mechanical condition.
5. Stay in your own lane.
6. Remember, drinking and driving don't mix.

"This all adds up to obeying the Golden Rule because these are the things you would want the other driver to do, too," concluded Smith.

County Workers Honored by Board For Services

In ceremonies before the board of supervisors Tuesday nine county employees received awards for service totaling 110 years with the county.

The program, held in the board of supervisors chambers, honored the following employees:

Leading with 25 years of service is Rowena M. Taylor, social worker in the social service department.

Next, with 15 years of service, is Clyde Wristen, laborer in department of public works.

Employees with 10 years of service each are William P. Urdick, judge of Port Costa judicial district; Marvin E. Scott, manager of Contra Costa County airport; Catherine Woloff, intermediate steno clerk in the assessor's office.

Inez M. Bruner, intermediate typist clerk in social service department; John Lucido, equipment operator for department of public works; Warren R. Lamb, building inspector; Robert Frank, deputy sheriff.

Participating were the supervisors, county administrator Joseph P. McBrien, director of personnel F. Eric Emery, and the employees' department heads.

Defensive Driving Urged by Expert

Want to give a Christmas present that will benefit thousands? Want to make a New Year's resolution that may save your life and others?

With two three-day holidays scheduled this month, J. M. Smith, president of Farmers Insurance Group Safety Foundation, believes that he has the answer to both questions.

"Resolve now to obey the Golden Rule and drive defensively during the Yule season and 1960," he said.

Smith pointed out that defensive driving simply means to watch out for the other fellow. He may not be able to control his car. He may stop or turn in front of you without warning. His car may not be in good mechanical condition. He may have been drinking.

Smith made the following suggestions:

1. Pay attention to your job.
2. Allow a safe distance between you and the other car—at least one car length for every 10 miles of speed.
3. Signal your intentions for stopping and turning.

4. Keep your car in good mechanical condition.
5. Stay in your own lane.
6. Remember, drinking and driving don't mix.

"This all adds up to obeying the Golden Rule because these are the things you would want the other driver to do, too," concluded Smith.

Lafayette, Orinda Parents Meet on Pop Warner Tilts

The proposed Lafayette-Orinda Thunderbirds Pop Warner football team Parents Boosters Club met for the first time December 10 at Montecito School in Lafayette.

Pete Villa, head coach and organizer, introduced the coaches, the staff, showed a movie of the Contra Costa Pioneer 1959 highlights in the Pop Warner Conference, and answered questions about the team.

Villa said the playing weight limit is 120 pounds, however, he added, "Through the process of conditioning a boy should lose at least five pounds."

He advised that boys over 125 not come out for the team before checking with the family doctor.

The cost for running the program will be in the neighborhood of $2500. This includes equipment, bus transportation, custodian fees, three officials a game and possible bowl invitations.

Parents will not be expected to contribute directly, Villa said.

"Money will be collected through fund raising events."

Practice will begin next August with tryouts on the team open to all boys between 11 and 14 years of age whose birthday does not arrive before September 1.

"Boys will not be asked to buy shoes until after the squad is announced," said Villa. Prior to that date boys will work out in tennis shoes and football gear.

The question of insurance was brought up. Villa said the team would buy a $150 group insurance plan to be paid for by the team. "It will include $90 medical and $60 liability."

Asked whether the proposed team would hurt the grammar school flag football program, Villa said, "We probably won't draw more than four kids from any one school."

Villa also compared the Pop Warner program with that offered to high school freshmen. "We can offer better coaching and more playing in our program," he said.

County Enters Study of Court System With Council

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors will ask the State Judicial Council to study all municipal and judicial district courts in the county.

Following the study, the board will hear the recommendations of the council concerning the possible streamlining of the county's court system.

THE ACTION of the board, taken in Martinez recently in a 4-1 vote, was spurred by Thomas J. Coll, third district supervisor from Concord.

The board said the survey would be aimed at eliminating a "hodge podge" of lower courts and at setting up a system that would operate more efficiently and more economically.

Coll a few weeks ago proposed that the "board face reality and begin a long-overdue consolidation of justice and municipal courts."

Supervisor Joseph S. Silva of Brentwood, a former judge, dissented on the grounds that a similar court study was made several years ago and nothing came of it.

THE BOARD said the study may be the answer to the "helter skelter" formation of new municipal court districts. Recently, new districts have been formed in Concord, San Pablo and Walnut Creek.

There is one in Richmond and another is proposed for El Cerrito. When an existing judicial district reaches 40,000 population, a municipal court may be established by the Superior Court.

The county now has 14 justice courts and including the municipal courts there are 19 inferior courts in all.

Phil F. Gibson, chief justice of the supreme court, appeared personally before the board of supervisors in 1951 and recommended that 11 of the justice courts be abolished and consolidated under a measure passed by the voters which created the municipal court system.

The board voted that the county instead of consolidating and reducing the number of lower courts has added two since 1950 because at that time there were only 27.

Special Fire Tax Zone Established For Moraga Area

Residents of the Moraga, Orinda Canyon areas included in the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District will pay a higher tax rate for their fire protection beginning in July.

A special taxing zone of the land-poor fire district was established by action of the County Board of Supervisors recently. The board's unanimous action followed a recommendation by the fire district's board of commissioners.

THE SPECIAL TAX zone for the Moraga area was proposed in order to equalize the tax burden between the district's rural areas, which requires little service, and residential Moraga, which requires extensive service.

Only change which was made by the supervisors in the district board's recommendation involved the boundaries of the special zone. The thinly populated Bolinger Canyon area was excluded from the proposed zone at the request of Captain Harold Parker, president of the Canyon Improvement Association.

The omission of the area, about 5000 acres, was also requested of the fire commissioners last week, and the commission asked the supervisors to consider Parker's request.

INSTEAD OF coinciding with the boundaries of the Moraga School District, as originally proposed, the new special tax zone now coincides with a boundary line of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

According to Howard Wiedemann, chairman of the fire commission, all present and future residential and commercial development in the area will be served by the sanitary district.

Meditation, Not Murder: Check Your Car Now

Christmas is a time for meditation and merriment, not motorized murder.

The Christmas holiday is almost here again and Christmas driving is apt to bring along its usual quota of maiming injuries and sudden deaths. You can do your part, points out the National Automobile Club, to see that these injuries and deaths are kept to a reasonable minimum.

Begin by checking on the mechanical condition of your car. Have the brakes been a little loose lately, have they taken more than the usual distance to bring you to a stop?

Has the windshield wiper blade lost its pliability to the point where it just smears the moisture and mud, doesn't wipe it away? Have the tires lost all their tread?

Are they so smooth now that the slightest thing can throw you into a dangerous skid?

Consider these points and others like them and, if corrections seem to be called for, make these corrections. You can drive no more safely than the mechanical condition of your car permits.

How about your knowledge of, and respect for, our driving rules and regulations? Do you know who has the right of way at intersections? Do you know about the proper way to make signals in traffic, and about the proper procedure for getting out from the curb or passing another car on the open road?

Do you know what the law says about drinking and driving? When you've had a few drinks do you begin to grow arrogant and reckless, want to "show all these other guys." Or do you have enough sense to turn over the business of driving to one who has a clear head?

Check on these things. Know about the mechanical condition of your car, about these driving rules and regulations, and about your attitude towards these rules and regulations.

Above all, bring to this important job of driving a strong sense of your responsibility and a strong desire to show courtesy and consideration to those other drivers in every driving situation.

By showing this courtesy and consideration for others you can bring into your driving something of the spirit of Christmas, and you can help to keep yourself safe.

STAFF OF LIFE

The Greek word for bread is "Psomi." Germans call it "Brot." In Latin America, the Spanish word is "Pan." But everywhere, it's the staff of life. And to millions of needy people, it's the same as saying CARE, which brings them flour to bake into bread. You give bread to the hungry when you send a contribution to the CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market Street, San Francisco.

Damage Suit Filed For Injured Boy

A superior court damage suit in the amount of $100,000 has been filed on behalf of an 11-year-old Lafayette boy against the Lafayette School District.

The action was filed by attorney C. Terence Ring of Walnut Creek on behalf of Michael Ernst, son of the George H. Ernsts, 783 North Road.

MICHAEL WAS injured last December when he fell from a jungle gym at the Lafayette School playground after being hit by a thrown ball, according to the suit.

Ring's filing alleges that the school district was negligent in allowing ball games to be played in the vicinity of the jungle gym where a thrown ball could injure other youngsters.

After the injury, the attorney said, the boy was unable to attend school and required private tutoring at home and therapy treatments at the Shadelands School in Walnut Creek.

Michael, who is partially paralyzed as the result of the mishap, re-entered the Lafayette School in September, according to Ring.

Maritime Exam Openings Told

The Honorable Jerome R. Waldie, state assemblyman representing the 10th district, announces a competitive examination for young men in his district to become his nominee for admission to the California Maritime Academy in August.

The examination will be held at 9 a.m. on April 2, at the California Maritime Academy, located in Vallejo. There are no fees required to take this examination.

The applicant with the highest passing score on the tests will become the nominee of assemblyman Waldie. Others with passing scores may be admitted if vacancies in the quota for the entering class exist.

The state-operated California Maritime Academy is located on Carquinez Strait, Vallejo, at the head of San Francisco Bay. The Academy program provides, in three years, approximately the same education as the normal four-year college. The graduate receives a B.S. degree, either in nautical science or in marine engineering. Well-paid jobs as licensed officers in the U.S. Merchant Marine await the graduates.

Those who are physically and otherwise qualified, are eligible for commissions in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Students must pay a tuition fee which includes room and board, and must purchase their textbooks and uniforms.

To be eligible for admission, an applicant must, at the time of admission in August, 1960, be a high school graduate, unmarried, 17 years of age, but not over 23, (except in the case of veterans who may enter up to the age of 27), and meet certain physical and mental requirements.

Application to take the examination should be made to Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie, 500 Lynn Avenue, Antioch, on or before March 1.

Further information may be obtained by writing to: The Dean of Instruction, California Maritime Academy, Vallejo, California.

FAMINE THREATENS 8,000 families—nearly 50,000—in the Loja District of Ecuador, since a scourge of "army worms" destroyed their crops. Contributions to the CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market Street, San Francisco, will help the famine victims survive the winter months.

The stern Puritans of New England, who frowned upon the celebration of Christmas as a pagan rite, went so far as to enact "blue laws" banning the making of mince pies. World Book Encyclopedia reports that mince pies are associated with Christmas because they were originally baked in the shape of a manger.

County Short 58 Classes

Contra Costa County is still short roughly 58 elementary classrooms to provide a full day's schooling for 3506 pupils currently on half day session.

County Superintendent Floyd Marchus said attendance reports show that seven districts are operating half day session this fall, as follows: Danville Union, 250 children; Moraga, 45; Mt. Diablo Unified, 1094; Orinda Union, 682; Pinole-Hercules Union, 643; Richmond Elementary, 241, and Walnut Creek, 551.

The total of 3506 is in contrast to 3152 children on half day session in seven districts a year ago and nearly 15,000 at the peak of school crowding in 1949.

This year's total on half day session will be reduced during the school year by the opening of new buildings, including the Ellerhorst School at Pinole, Vista Grande at Danville and San Miguel in the Mt. Diablo District.

More than half of the children on double session—1725—are first graders, with progressively fewer in each succeeding grade through the fifth.

Two districts without half session last year, Danville and Moraga, resumed this year because of enrollment increases. Lafayette and Sheldon on the other hand have eliminated half session since last year.

The germ that causes tuberculosis, the tubercle bacillus, was first identified in 1882 by a German scientist, Robert Koch.

Lawson Elected President of Artists' Group

The Diablo Art Association has elected: President, James Lawson of Alamo; vice-president, Bill Hayward, Walnut Creek; secretary, Mrs. Elsie White, Walnut Creek; treasurer, Arthur Odert, Lafayette.

Publicity, Mrs. Lida Lawson, Alamo; exhibits chairman, Mrs. Mona Williams, Walnut Creek; programs, Mrs. Coraly Dodson, Walnut Creek; membership chairman, Mrs. Charman Stapler, Danville; bulletins, Fred Pring, Danville.

Membership of the association has now increased to over 200. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of each month except December at the Real Estate Building, 1343 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

In addition to the monthly art lectures to which the public is invited, the association also sponsors art shows, maintains a classified service registry and art class listing, and issues a monthly news bulletin.

AUTOMOTIVE PRODUCTION

Automotive factories in the United States produced 5,847,083 motor vehicles during the period from January 1 through October 31, 1959, reports the National Automobile Club. This was 2,015,473 more motor vehicles than they produced in the same period of 1958.

Summer School's Deficit Is Restricted to $4775

Although somewhat disturbed that $4775 of the taxpayers' money will be needed to support a $28,943 summer school program where only 10 per cent of the pupils are taking "remedial" courses, Walnut Creek School District trustees gave their preliminary okay.

The trustees stipulate, however, that (1) the regular nine-month session must not suffer as a result of summer school preparations.

(2) The "deficit" must not exceed $4775.

(3) DISTRICT children who need remedial work should be encouraged to take same, and teachers should so recommend in each case.

(4) Faithful attendance, assuring a maximum average daily attendance payment by the state, should be encouraged. Without good attendance by the estimated 1500 children, a greater "deficit" will threaten and will result in a cutting of the program.

The trustees eyed District Superintendent Richard Fickel warily as Fickel announced that only 10 per cent of the summer school pupils last year took "remedial" courses, and the rest took enrichment courses.

To Alex Lindsay's "Why?" Fickel said primary grade children don't know when they need remedial work, and the upper grade children prefer a "change of pace" over a repetition of the "structural routine."

HE SAID THERE is a reluctance by both pupils and parents to prefer remedial courses, and children needing remedial work the most are the ones who most want the "change of pace" (enrichment) since they are under the most pressure.

"They like the courses which allow variety, looking into new areas, with the chance to expand," Fickel said.

Trustee Dewitt Kreuger commented, "Well, if you carry that to a logical conclusion, this sounds like a summer camp in the Sierra."

There was a momentary confusion and mixture of "remedial" work taken by a small percentage of the summer school pupils, and the "basic" courses, which are required for all of them.

BOTH REMEDIAL and enrichment pupils must take four "basic" courses, from a group including reading, writing, language study, spelling, arithmetic and civics.

Only one course is allowed each day for an "elective" like arts and crafts, typing, foreign language, geometry, algebra, industrial arts, etc.

The summer school course has been reduced from five weeks to four, June 20 to July 15, following a recommendation by Fickel, who noted that the longer session may be have responsible for the dropout of some 250 of the 1500 students last year.

Final approval of the summer school will hinge on the final arrangements by Business Manager David Shelver, and the summer school coordinator, who will begin preparations with a clerk on January 4. Lee Sloan was coordinator last year, and no word of any change has been released.

THE PRELIMINARY survey should be ready by February 15. Fickel also estimated that in the entire district, about 10 per cent of the pupils need remedial work, and of course many of them do not attend summer school.

Class loads will be planned for 27 pupils average, with the average daily attendance perhaps standing at 22.

Only two sites will be used, rather than the three recommended by Fickel.

FINANCE CHAIRMAN Irving Kraemer started the discussion by saying that the summer school could be run with only $24,168, but it would be "educationally unacceptable."

Damage Claimed By Couple in Property Sale

John F. and Shyrle DeHaven of Pleasant Hill recently filed suit for $8090 damages on grounds they were deceived in 1956 into buying a house at 421 Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill, which they assert does not meet building code regulations and is built on a substandard lot.

The DeHavens, who now live at 55 Oak View Road named as defendants the seller of the property, W. J. Anderson of 441 Boyd Road, and the real estate agents, Frederick R. and Lois R. Silvey of 55 Stevenson Drive, Pleasant Hill.

They had been assured by the defendants that the house met building regulations and the lot met zoning requirements, their attorney, Douglas Cowan of Walnut Creek said.

They discovered both the house and lot were substandard when they were denied a county permit for remodeling last August, Cowan said.

The county ruled the house was built on piers of a type prohibited by the code and that the 7000 square foot lot was 30 per cent smaller than that permitted by zoning regulations, Cowan said.

When the California Highway Patrol's office in Contra Costa, today appealed to all motorists to drive with extra care and caution during the coming holiday season. "The tragedy of a fatal traffic accident, great as it is through-out the year, is magnified when it occurs during the Christmas season," Magill declared. "Any traffic officer who has had to inform a person that a loved one has been killed in an accident knows what this tragedy means. But he doesn't know it nearly as well as do the victim's loved ones."

68. Services Home & Garden

The highway patrol official said he has completed plans for a maximum enforcement program during the holidays. His officers, he emphasized, will pay particular attention to the more hazardous, accident-causing violations. "Excessive speed and right of way violations are two of the most frequent causes of traffic accidents. We will be especially alert for these infractions," Magill declared. "We will also be attentive to those drivers who have been drinking, because we want to get them off the highways before they get themselves and others into serious trouble," he concluded.

Only slightly less colorful than other seasons of the year. What with fall flowers that are reluctant to stop blooming and spring flowers that can't wait to start, the Californian is lucky.

68. Services Home & Garden

He is especially lucky to have so much winter bloom from shrubs. At a time when gardens across the nation are buried under snow, the Californian is cutting camellias for table arrangements, potting up azaleas for color indoors or breathing the fragrance of daphne under his kitchen window. How the Eastern gardener must envy us Californians.

IF YOU STOP in to chat with a member of the California Association of Nurserymen this month and next, you will come away with all sorts of ideas for winter color from shrubs. He'll impress you for sure with the importance of the berries shrubs in our state.

68. Services Home & Garden

He'll tell you pyracantha berries are prominent from late summer to well after the new year. And he'll show you how, with proper planning, you can have camellias in bloom from early fall to late spring.

68. Services Home & Garden

This month and next, your eye will be caught by the charming sprays of heather which nurseries have to offer. We feel that every garden should have at least one shrub of heather, if only for the sentiment connected with this old favorite.

68. Services Home & Garden

LEPTOSPERMUMS or tea trees provide us with color in winter and spring. Ask your nurseryman about the Keatley leptospermum, a lovely pink-flowered member of the family. It blooms through the winter into early spring. Ask him, too, about the Delavay osmanthus if you would have late winter masses of fragrant white flowers at your doorside.

68. Services Home & Garden

We'd certainly not be without flowering quinces which push out their delicate blooms so soon after the new year, nor without the wonderful native ceanothus, wild lilacs, if you prefer—which color up California's countryside in late winter and spring. These, among others, keep gardens bright in winter months.
